The Linscheid Library frequently hosts a variety of displays and exhibits deemed to be of interest to East Central University and the surrounding community.

Displays and exhibits in the library should be of general interest, reflect the mission of the University, and support themes and subjects of an educational or cultural nature.

Campus groups are welcome to request that the library house a display. Such requests should be addressed to the Public Services Librarian. Decisions to grant or refuse such requests will be made in consultation with the library faculty and in consideration of the appropriateness of the material, balanced with the principles of intellectual and artistic freedom.

Library bulletin boards likewise should emphasize materials of informational, educational, and cultural interest. Announcements by campus groups of events and activities may also be included. Postings advertising campus groups, activities, and events are subject to approval by library staff, and subject to the availability of space. Commercial advertising is not permitted. Personal solicitations will be removed.

The library is not responsible for the loss, theft or damage of materials displayed.
